ProX T-10RSS 10U Rack Space ATA Style Flight Case 19 Inch Depth with 4" Casters

Description

ProX T-10RSS 10U Rack Space ATA Style Flight Case 19-inch Depth with 4" Casters. If you're looking for a reliable and stylish solution to store and transport your precious audio equipment, the ProX T-10RSS rack case is an excellent choice. This rugged case is built to last, with a heavy-duty construction and thicker 3/8" plywood that provides premium protection for your gear.

Not only is the T-10RSS case tough and durable, it's also loaded with features that make it incredibly convenient to use. The dual mounting rails ensure that your equipment won't slip or dislodge during transport, while the external handles make it easy to lift and move the case around.

In addition, the butterfly twist latches with included padlocks provide added security to keep your equipment safe and secure. And when you need to stack multiple units, the rubber feet at the base ensure maximum stability.

As someone who is passionate about audio equipment myself, I can confidently say that the ProX T-10RSS rack case is a great investment for any audio professional or enthusiast. Not only does it provide top-notch protection for your gear, it also looks sleek and stylish, making it a great addition to any setup. So why settle for a flimsy or unreliable case when you can have the peace of mind and convenience that comes with the ProX T-10RSS?

All ProX cases use CNC technology, during the manufacturing process, to assure that cases are consistently built with strict specifications and tolerances that are required for the high-quality standards that ProX cases have been known for since 1984.
