Safety Warning:

Modern Flat-Screen TVs, in spite of their low weight, can easily tip over when mounted on speaker stands or totems with insufficient sized bases. Their large size, weight, and sharp corners pose risks of crushing injuries or death if they fall on bystanders, guests, and other attendees at events.

How to prevent accidents:

1. Match the stand size to the size of your TV. It should have a wide, deep and stable base.
2. Always extend the legs of the stand to their maximum length.
3. When mounting on truss totems, always use a large heavy base.
4. Always use sandbags or heavy weights on the base of trussing, or on the legs of stands for large displays.
5. Keep cords safely tucked away and taped down to prevent a trip hazard or tipping of the TV/Stand
6. Never place your stand or totem on an unstable or unlevel surface!
